

Transport from Henry Coanda International Airport

The Henry Coanda International Airport (called also Otopeni) is located 16 km north of the Bucharest City Centre.

The 783 bus travels regularly from The Henry Coanda International Airport (called also Otopeni) to the City Centre (approximate travel time 40 minutes), via Victoriei Square, Romana Square, Universitate and finally Unirii Square.

The 783 bus timetable is:

Monday to Friday 5:30 - 23:40 (every 15 minutes)

Saturday, Sunday and legal holydays: 5:30 - 23:30 (every 30 minutes).

If you take the bus, get off at Piata Victoriei station then take the subway train. From Piata Victoriei take the train to Republica direction. Get off at Semanatoarea, which is the fourth station after Piata Victoriei. At Semanatoarea there are two exits. To get out to the correct exit you have to go in the direction of the train. The Regie campus is about 300 meters far on the left side of the Dambovită River.

For the bus travel, only round trip tickets can be purchased; there are no singles. You may not be able to buy from the driver, and need to get them before boarding from the sales booth. Tickets have a magnetic stripe which is read by a machine on entering the bus. These tickets are different from and not compatible with the cheaper ones for City buses – but they are still cheap (5 Lei - 1.5 Euro, for one return ticket).

Transport from Aurel Vlaicu International Airport

The Aurel Vlaicu International Airport (called also Baneasa) is located 8 km north of the Bucharest City Centre, with exit to the same road as for the Henry Coanda Airport.

From Aurel Vlaicu airport, the 131 and 335 buses travel to Piata Romana – and might not go further. Piata Romana station is the bus line end. Just few meters from the bus station you may find the subway metro station. Take the metro to Pipera direction and get off at Piata Victoriei station (only one station). At Piata Victoriei, change the line (do not get out) and take the subway train to Republica direction. Get off at Semanatoarea, which is the fourth station after Piata Victoriei. At Semanatoarea there are two exits. To get out to the correct exit you have to go in the direction of the train. The Regie campus is at about 300 meters on the left.

For the bus travel, you may purchase one travel, two travels or one-day travel tickets. You may not be able to buy from the driver, and need to get them before boarding from the sales booth. Tickets are paper stripe and are punched in appropriate boxes. One-way ticket costs 1.3 Lei.
