

IEEE PSES Taiwan Chapter News

2004 Feb 17

Chapter Form Update

The petition already submits to and confirmed by IEEE on February 10 to form the PSES Taiwan Chapter. It will take 1-2 month to process due to the heavy workload in IEEE and Mark Montrose who is the PSES President will help us to smooth the application. Now, we need to design the e-card to invite the industry-wide join us when we receive the Chapter certificate. Please input me if you have any good idea.

Web page Construction

The web-page is under construction by Roger's, Sammy's nephew, help and plan to finish on March 8 if everything smoothly. When it is done, you can access it by <http://ewh.ieee.org/soc/pses/Chapters/index.html>. But, we will need to have a big space to upload the chapter files e.g. meeting minute, newsletter, etc. We will also need one web master to maintain the website.

Engineering Article

Due to the Chinese Lunar Year, the planned newsletter delay to publish. Now, I would like let you know that you will receive the first safety engineering paper soon. In the article, Flore collect some background for why ECMA declare lower temperature limit than IEC 60065 and IEC 60950-1. He also summary the significant differences in EN 563, ECMA 287, IEC 60950-1 and IEC 60065 and breakdown the philosophy of EN 563 in Burn Hazard.

In addition, PSES 2005 symposium call for paper and you encourage to join it. If you feel interesting, please read the topic-needed information from <http://ewh.ieee.org/soc/pses/symposium/index.html>.

In the March, we will have two topics Hazard Based Safety Engineering Concept, edit by Ian, and PoE technology evaluation overview, edit by Maxi.

Feb F2F Meeting

We will have a face-to-face meeting on Feb 26, AM 11:00, Intertek Taiwan. Please see the website <http://www.taiwan.intertek-etlsemko.com/>. In this meeting, we will discuss some topics followings.

1. Officer election (Chair, Vice Chair, Secretary, Treasurer and Webmaster)
2. Newsletter review procedure
3. BSMI technical meeting minute translation (Chinese to English)

Please attend the meeting and let me know if you have any question.