A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Mark Stokes

Congratulations to all of our participants at the January student paper contest. We had four Clemson University students in this year's competition. I was very impressed with all of the presentations. Our winners list:

1. Jennifer Vanderhorst
2. Ed McDonough
3. Mike Lockhart

The presentations were well thought out and gave the judges very little to judge against. At least three of this year's participants have said they are planning to attend the state competition in Columbia. This competition will probably be in late February or early March.

Based on the previous attendance at the meetings in Clemson, we are going to have the meetings for February and March in Clemson as an experiment. I realize this section covers a fairly large geographical area, making it difficult to have a central location for our meetings. I hope this decision doesn't cause anyone to miss a meeting. If there are serious problems making it to Clemson by 7:00pm, please let me know. Also note, the actual meeting doesn't start until after 7:30pm.

Stephanie will discuss the career information and services available at Clemson University. The topics will include career development and placement, networking, salary calculation information, and World Wide Web career information. These services are available regardless if you graduated from Clemson or another university. This information is beneficial to those of us who have been in the work place for a number of years and to the most recent graduates.

6:30-7:00 Social 1/2 Hour
