IEEE Personal Email Alias Service with free virus scanning

An IEEE Information Advantage Program™

A members-only benefit, the IEEE email alias service delivers:

- Clarity - An IEEE alias is easy to acquire, remember and update online
- Constancy - Your alias stays @ieee.org even when your email address changes
- Convergence - You'll identify yourself to other IEEE members
- Connectivity - Email messages are automatically forwarded to your real Internet address
- Comfort - Attachments to emails sent to your alias will automatically be scanned for viruses

Manage your email alias:
Register for an alias   Update your alias   Delete your alias

Username and alias are subject to availability on a first come, first served basis.

Free Virus Scanning
 Our virus scanning feature helps prevent you from receiving viruses in the first place. Attachments within your e-mail that are sent to your IEEE email alias will be scanned for viruses. If a virus is found, the attachment will be deleted. An alert is then sent to both the sender and recipient. While the IEEE cannot guarantee that every virus will be found, the virus scanning software is updated daily with a current virus recognition file. A service like this typically costs $30 per year, but as an IEEE member, it is yours FREE of charge.
