- Robots for industrial applications and
- Robots for world peace, for example, prevention of human suffering by landmines detection and defuse, surveillance and narcotics control etc.

R10 Internship Program

The first regional level internship program, launched and pioneered by IEEE R10 YP, which aims to provide the interns with necessary training and involving on projects which benefits the members of the IEEE. <https://yp.ieee10.org/gems/>

GEMS
Grow, Engage, Master and Succeed

"A volunteer training program"

A group of young talents capable of adapting the technological world. GEMS will function as the forum where the R10 Young Professionals, fully engaged to meet the needs of IEEE R10.

Teams under GEMS

- Content
- Design
- Web

Each team will be inspected and trained for one year during which each team will have the opportunity to get involved with various activities, programs and projects that comes under GEMS. The year-to-year-gone premier will help in developing the skills of each student becoming a part of the program. Insights on Content Writing, Designing, Web and App Development will be the key takeaways from this program.

Let's generate a creative turbulence!

IEEE R10 ASEAN Industry Roundtable Discussion on Climate Change

- Brought together industry leaders, researchers and government representative to focus on the pressing need for innovation, sustainable practices, and education to effectively tackle climate change.
- The topics covered include the impact of climate change on natural resources, the significance of energy efficiency and renewable energy sources, and the need to shift away from coal and gas in power generation.
- Overall, the panelists agreed on the need of a united effort to combat climate change to create a better future for all.
- This discussion was aired live on YouTube and was watched by more than 850 person at the time.
- It was also aired on TVRI World channel which is accessible by satellite and pay TV platforms overall countries within South-East Asia and 7 countries in Europe.
