IEEE Packing List Specification for Conference Proceedings; version 1.0

1   INTRODUCTION

This document summarizes the various pubitypes that can appear in a conference proceedings. Pubitypes are used to identify the editorial content of a document and to enable enhanced searching. For this reason it is important that the proper pubtype is assigned to each item in the conference proceedings. As shown in the table below, an item has a pubitype even if it does not have a title.

It is intended that the publication type be indicated for each item in a conference proceedings. This information is meant to be included in the packing list (see IEEE Packing List Specification for Conference Proceedings) that accompanies the electronic files for a proceedings. It is not required at the present time but it will be required at a future date.
