

Call for Technical Papers

4th IEEE WF-IoT 2018 — Singapore

Organized by
IEEE IoT Initiative with IEEE Multi-Society Sponsorship

Technical paper topics

The 4th IEEE World Forum on the Internet of Things (WF-IoT 2018) Singapore February 5-8, 2018, seeks original technical paper submissions on IoT Technologies and Applications, including:

- IoT Enabling Technologies,
- IoT Techniques and Methods
- IoT Applications and Services
- IoT Societal Impacts,
- IoT Security and Privacy
- IoT Experimental Results
- IoT Deployment Scenarios
- IoT Architectures
- IoT for Smart Cities
- Smart Cyber Physical Systems

and many more subjects fully described in the extended CFP, which can be found here.

Technical paper format and submission

WF-IoT 2018 solicits technical papers of 4-6 pages. The WF-IoT 2018 technical program committee will review all papers fully. Papers must be submitted in PDF and US letter format and conform to the IEEE formatting guidelines as specified in these templates: Word Template, LaTeX package. All papers must be submitted electronically: <https://www.edas.info/N23622>

If a paper is accepted and presented, it will be included in the conference proceedings and be submitted to the Xplore Digital Library. IEEE takes the protection of intellectual property very seriously. All submissions will be screened for plagiarism using CrossCheck. By submitting your work, you agree to allow IEEE to screen your work for plagiarism:

<http://www.crossref.org/crosscheck/index.html>. Authors of selected papers will be invited to submit extended versions to the IEEE IoT Journal: <http://iot-journal.weebly.com/>

Technical paper deadlines

Technical paper submission: Sep 30, 2017 (extended to align with workshops submissions)

Acceptance Notification: Nov 15, 2017

Camera-ready submission: Dec 15, 2017

Papers must be submitted electronically: <https://www.edas.info/N23622>

Technical paper program co-chairs

Hausi Müller, University of Victoria, Canada hausi@uvic.ca

Antonio Skarmeta, Universidad de Murcia, Spain skarmeta@um.es

Call for Technical Papers

4th IEEE World Forum on Internet of Things (WF-IoT 2018)

5-8 February 2018 — Singapore

<http://www.ieee-wf-iot.org>