THE INTRACTABLE DATA STORAGE HEADACHE: SOLVED!

Tweet Share In Share

Solving the most challenging data problems

For decades, folks all over the world who use computing to solve problems or conduct business, have had to grapple (actually near physical wrestle) with problems relating to solving the data storage issues. From demands of all end users (scientists, engineers, business, students, government, etc.) - all of them require fast access to the data, ever wide variety of type of data: text, databases, video, audio, graphic images, etc. IT folks have struggled to make this an easy thing but without much success.

There is a new kid on the block - with the name of Weka.IO (ask them how they came up with that name), which seems to have addressed this in an innovative manner. Created by the original founders of storage systems sold by IBM - they have used their experience to vastly improve many of the old issues. IT leaders, analysts, support persons, automotive engineers struggling to save all that data from those Self Driving vehicles, data capture systems, etc., all will benefit from checking this out.

The screenshot shows a registration form with several sections: LOCATION, Virtual, Virtual Info, and Physical. A red box highlights the LOCATION header. A callout box points to the Virtual section, stating: "Enter any information for attending this event virtually. Either Virtual Info or Physical Info is required." Another callout box points to the Virtual Info section, which contains a ReCAPTCHA challenge: "If you are not a robot, please complete the ReCAPTCHA to display virtual attendance info." Below this, there is an "I'm not a robot" checkbox and the reCAPTCHA logo. A red arrow points from the ReCAPTCHA callout to the Insert link dialog box, which is open over the Virtual Info section. The dialog box has fields for "Url" (https://ieeemeetings.webex.com/meet/wgmiee), "Text to display" (web conference link), "Title", and "Target" (None). The background form also shows a note about Webex URLs being obfuscated and a text area with a "web conference link" placeholder.

NEW! Public view includes web conference information

The screenshot shows the public view of the event registration form. It features a LOCATION header with a location pin icon. Below the header, the text reads: "Please join by clicking on the web conference link". Underneath, the contact information is listed: "Dial In 1-555-555-555" and "Meeting ID 897362".
