Status: Student Activities, January 14, 2013

1. We now have 57 2-leg teams registered for the Robot Challenge, this compares with 64 teams at this time last year, and 73 the year before. We have 13 4-leg teams registered this year, compared with 9 teams last year and 25 teams the year before. Part of the problem is that we have only 10 schools participating compared to 13 schools last year and 15 schools the year before.
2. A positive factor is that we have 9 teams doing automation this year (7 2-leg and 2 4-leg), and owing to the new design developed by Jay Gamerman, there is a good chance that they will be successful.
3. Though below last years' level, registration remains open till mid-february, so we still have the opportunity of getting additional schools that have not yet signed up.
4. We will be holding a training program next Saturday, January19, and are hopeful that we can sign up more teams at this time. The training will be held at the Baltimore Museum of Industry from 10 AM to 2 PM, with lunch included. The morning sessions will deal with the building and walking of the Manual Robots, while the afternoon sessions will concentrate on Automated autonomous operation. All teachers and mentors are invited to attend as well as any judges who would like to learn more about the project. There is no charge.
5. Kit inventory is good, with 46 basic 2-leg kits available, as well as 3 New 2-leg and 5 New 4-leg automation kits. We also have a limited number of the older automation kits as well.
6. We have been asked to administer a program to honor the memory of Walter Willing, our past president. This will consist of an essay competition on the topic of either Reliability, Quality Engineering or Robotics. There will be 4 prizes a year of $500 each for a period of 5 years, with judging to take places at the same time we judge the Robot Challenge Written Reports. It has been suggested that we start by sending invitations to participate to the juniors and seniors of all the schools that have signed up for the Robot Challenge, with the deadline that of the Written Reports (March 22).
7. The payment for the 40 kits we received form Kelvin last month, was paid directly by our treasurer.
8. My expenses since the start of the academic year have been $303.06
