

2015 Region 5 Student Branch Awards (Ron Seaman – Student Activities Liaison)

Members of four IEEE student branches attended the 2015 Region 5 Conference in New Orleans, April 17-19. University of Texas at Austin students participated in the circuit design, ethics, and robotics competitions. Texas State University students participated in the participated in the robotics competition. Trinity University students participated in the ethics competition. UTSA students brought a robot but were not quite able to have it ready for competition on Saturday.

The Trinity team of Madeline Yin and Cameron McKay took second place in the ethics competition and a $300 check for the team. The UT team of Haley Alexander and Josh Frazor took third place in the circuit design competition and a $100 check for the UT branch.

Texas State University students at the 2015 Region 5 Conference in New Orleans. TSU faculty Drs. Bill Stapleton and Larry Larson (branch adviser) are at left.

University of Texas at Austin students at the 2015 Region 5 Conference in New Orleans. All UT students participated in competitions.

Trinity University students at the 2015 Region 5 Conference in New Orleans.

Haley Alexander and Josh Frazor of UT-Austin receiving certificate for third place in the circuit design competition. Haley and Josh were still smiling and hooking horns after the awards banquet.

Madeline Yin and Cameron McKay of Trinity University receiving certificate for second place in the ethics competition. Madeline and Cameron were still smiling big after the awards banquet.