“Web2.0 - When the network becomes the platform, and the rise of the social web”

Ritchie Boyd, Extended University

Montana State University

Presentation summary

What is it about Web2.0 that hints at major changes coming in the way we work, play and learn? What are the latest tools and toys that are being used for productivity, fun and to enhance teaching and learning? Who's using them, how, and why- and what does this mean for the future of education and society? This presentation will look at the emerging tools and trends and may even help you make a wee bit of sense of this rapidly evolving field.
