About The Workshop:

The event had been mainly organized to spread knowledge among the students about the importance of research activities which is a primary role in the development of science and technology. Technical paper writing skill personally helps students to publish paper at conference, magazine or at any other means when they finish with their project. Students were also motivated and convinced that doing research work is not an impossible task. Statistics regarding number of research activities done and paper presented on those research works in prominent countries around the world was also informed to students. The format of writing a research paper and ethics that has to be followed in these aspects were understood by the students.
