List of Participants

Later, Ms. Nikita, Chair, PES Student Chapter, listed out the topics that can be penned down and asked participants to avoid plagiarism. She informed that the participants could choose only one from the mentioned topics and that the deadline for submission of articles is upto 30th January, 2021. She also notified that merit certificates will be given for those three participants who've written the best and that everyone will get participant certificates. The topics upon which participants can write an article are Smart Cities, Electrical Vehicles, Power Generation using Renewables and Hybrid Electric Vehicles. These topics were selected so as to encourage first year students also to participate in the competition.

Followed by this, Mr. CVGK Rao was invited to address the session. Mr. CVGK Rao appreciated the PES student chapter and EESA Organising team for undertaking these kind of activities and keeping the students engaged during this unprecedented times. He urged the organisers to conduct activities like this in a large scale and assured them assistance from the EEE Department. He wished all the participants luck and asked them to keep participating in the upcoming events.

Vote of thanks proposed by Mr. G. Surya Teja, Joint Secretary, PES Student chapter marked the end of the inaugural session.

Winners of the event

A total of 17 students have registered for the article writing competition. Plagiarism was not encouraged so those who've committed it were omitted from the competition. Out of all, Ms. G. Chandana, Ms. T. Vandana and Mr. Ankit Rama were awarded the merit certificates for their explicit writing, for the topics Smart Cities, Power Generation using Renewables and Hybrid Electric Vehicles respectively. All the other participants were given the participation certificates.
