

Scenes from the 2004 IEEE International Symposium on EMC, Santa Clara, California, August 9-13

ALL PHOTOS ON THIS PAGE BY JANET O'NEIL

Joe Nuebel of Sun Microsystems, Jerry Ramie of ARC Technical Resources, and Marco Klingler of PSA Peugeot Citroen (from left) get ready to enter the exhibit area in Santa Clara.

Asim Tirmizi, Matt Morotto, Jim Marley, Bob DeLisi and Wyatt Brannan of Underwriters Laboratories (from left) convened in Santa Clara.

Shown enjoying the Wednesday evening social event are (from left) Dan Hooliban of Hooliban EMC Consulting, Mary Jo DiBernardo of NIST, her husband Rob Edward Emard, Mary Ellen Blaha and her husband Jim of LS Compliance.

Eric Dornes (left) and Ismael Martinez of the Southwest Research Institute in San Antonio enjoyed the traffic on the exhibit floor.

Henry Ott of Henry Ott Consultants (left) visited with Bob Dockey of Philips Medical in the lobby area of the Santa Clara Convention Center.

Brian Kublman and Terry He of Boeing rested on a wishing well during the Wednesday evening social event.

Mark Arthurs of Sony (left) appreciated a lighter moment with Hans Peter Bauer of Robde & Schwarz.

NIST sent their best and brightest to Santa Clara, including (from left) Galen Koepke, Bob Jobnk, and Dennis Friday.

Ken Baker of AR Worldwide proudly displayed a motorized vehicle in his booth. This was a popular raffle prize during the Symposium.

Key contributors to the ANSI ASC C63 committee, Werner Schaefer of Cisco (left) and Bill Rhoades (recently retired from Xerox), visited on the exhibit floor.

Members of ETS-Lindgren from around the world gathered in Santa Clara, including (from left) Paul Gregory (Seattle), Bruce Butler (Austin), Joe Weibler and Bill Giacone (Chicago), Jonathan Neo (Singapore) and Vince Rodriguez (Austin).

Maria Sabrina Sarto (left) and Francesca Maradei of the University of Rome "La Sapienza" presented papers at the Santa Clara Symposium.

Enjoying the California sunshine are (from left) John Maas of IBM, Randal Vaughn of Silent Solutions, John Fessler of Lexmark, and Lee Hill of Silent Solutions.

Dennis Lewis of Boeing (left) caught up with Galen Koepke of NIST on the exhibit floor.

Steve Majakowski of Lucent joined Lowell Kolb of HP, Bob Dockey of Philips Medical, and Gary Town of HP (from left), at a social event in Santa Clara.

Corey Hyatt of Northrop Grumman (left) visited with long time friend Mike Windler of UL during the Symposium week.

Bill Oliver and Jesse Marquez of Advanced Technical Sales (foreground from left) attended the Exhibitors Breakfast meeting held in Santa Clara. Next year's Symposium Chair Tom Braxton of Braxton EMC Consulting, and Exhibits Chair Jack Black of DLS Electronic Systems, join Elya Joffe, EMCS VP of Conferences (background from left) at the annual meeting.

Janet Luo and Nee Salam of Panasonic Automotive Systems took in the sites and sounds of the Wednesday evening social event.

Doug Kramer of the Nebraska Center for Engineering Excellence (NCEE) promoted his company's services at the Santa Clara Symposium.

Art Wall of the FCC, Scott Lytle of Yazaki North America, and Ken Hall of Hewlett-Packard (from left) are representative of the diverse companies that sent personnel to the Santa Clara Symposium.

Leroy Vivian and Michelle Cook of IBM are all smiles on the exhibit floor!

Live entertainment at the Wednesday evening social event was appreciated by all in attendance.

The President's Memorial Award was presented in honor of Chris Kendall who passed away in 2004. His family, including his widow MarDell (seated), daughters Lori and Bonnie, and son-in-law Todd Robinson, (from left standing) represented his legacy at the Awards Luncheon.

Christian Bruns of ETH Zurich shared details about EMC Zurich 2005 with Newsletter Editor Janet O'Neil during the Wednesday evening social event.

A knowledgeable and enthusiastic Satoshi Kazama of Taiyo Yuden demonstrated his new product that analyzes emissions from ICs. This proved to be a very popular stop on the exhibit floor in Silicon Valley!

Back by popular demand, the Wednesday evening social event was held at the Paul Masson Winery. Symposium attendees from 1992 were eager to return to this unique hilltop venue.

The dB Society's annual dinner party featured an "Old Glory" theme. Joining in the spirit are Rodney Boyd and John O'Brien of WEMS Electronics and Doug Howard of Lockheed Martin (from left).

The ladies captured the breathtaking views of the Santa Clara Valley while the gentlemen preferred to drink wine and hold technical discussions at the winery.

Many of the sessions held during the Symposium drew record attendance due to the outstanding technical program.

No EMC Symposium would be "complete" without Bill Kimmel (left) and Daryl Gerke of Kimmel Gerke EMC Consultants in attendance. Mark Frankfurth of Cymer (center rear) tries to glean a little EMC expertise in their company.

The shuttle busses from the Convention Center to the nearby hotels were filled with EMC experts and novices alike. This provided an ideal opportunity to share knowledge and get acquainted.

The bright and airy Santa Clara Convention Center was the perfect venue for the 2004 IEEE International Symposium on EMC.

The poster sessions provided a unique opportunity to visit one-on-one with the paper authors.

PHOTO BY JANET ONNEIL

Ray Adams of Fischer Custom Communications and his wife Sylvia enjoyed the winery event.

Join Us In Chicago ~ "Your Kind of Town"

IEEE International EMC Symposium, 8-12 August 2005

Out of This World Discoveries

IL Board of Tourism/City of Chicago

Mammoth Museums

Brook Collins
Chicago Park District

Amusement for All Ages

Navy Pier/Odyssey/City of Chicago

Journey thru
Time & Space

International Hospitality

City of Chicago/Peter J. Schulz

We're Glad You're Here!

EMC2005.org

Amazing
Architecture

City of Chicago/Peter J. Schulz

Major-League Sports

City of Chicago/Javet Kimble

Join us in Chicago, August 8th through the 12th of 2005, for the IEEE International Electromagnetic Compatibility Symposium as we bring together the largest concentration of technical expertise, practical knowledge, and proven solutions in the industry. All this in one location to equip you with the tools you need to face the challenges in an increasingly complex electromagnetic environment.

And what a location! Chicago is the Great American City, and there is no better showcase than the historic Navy Pier on the shores of Lake Michigan. The 2005 IEEE EMC Symposium will reach all levels of the industry, sharing knowledge with technical and non-technical business leaders, addressing the EMC issues you need to know, both inside and outside the engineering environment as the world becomes richer with advancing energy and communications technologies. Focused technical and related business seminars, hands-on demonstrations, and leading solution providers to the EMC industry will join to bring you the latest insight, knowledge, innovations, and products. To enhance your experience, there will be family tours, networking receptions and a Chicago-style gala event! Don't miss coming to Chicago to "Experience the Energy" at the 2005 IEEE International EMC Symposium. For more info, visit www.EMC2005.org or e-mail Vita Feuerstein, your IEEE coordinator: vita@ieee.org. We look forward to seeing you in 2005. Don't forget your camera!

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC-CHICAGO
8-12 AUGUST 2005 @ NAVY PIER
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS USA

